Energy Engineering

Masters Sponsorship

The Australian Government has signed an agreement with the University of New South Wales to provide financial support for a project under the Asia-Pacific Partnership on Clean Development and Climate (APP) entitled: Building Expertise in Solar Energy Engineering.

Eighty engineers or scientists from India and South Korea will undertake the MEngSc program in Photovoltaics and Solar Energy Engineering. Graduates study to become leaders in the manufacturing and application of solar cells and modules in the Asia-Pacific region.

Masters by Coursework:

The Sponsorship covers 50% of tuition fees for 10 Masters students in 2009.
